

Attunity Wins $900,000 Deal With Fortune 500 Investment and Financial Advisory Services Company to Enable Strategic Data Lake Initiative

April 3, 2018

Real-time data availability to enable 360-degree customer analytics and improve business insights

BURLINGTON, Massachusetts, April 3, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Attunity Ltd. (NASDAQ CM: ATTU) (ATTU), a leading provider of data integration and Big Data management software solutions, announced today that a leading investment and financial advisory services company (the "Company") has signed a $900,000 agreement to utilize Attunity Replicate for enablement of its strategic data lake initiative. The Attunity solution, which provides real-time data ingestion for analytics, is designed to enable the Company to deliver comprehensive, 360-degree availability of customer data in a single view for better business insights and customer satisfaction.

The Company, a Fortune 500 firm, provides a full range of securities, brokerage, banking and financial advisory services. They selected Attunity for its unique ability to make data available in real-time from multiple data sources including SQL Server, Oracle and IBM DB2, into the Company's Hadoop data lake for improved customer analytics. Using the Attunity solution, the Company's IT team can now analyze and deliver complete views of its customer data for various business units. These groups can leverage the improved profiles to provide better customer service, enable cross-sell opportunities and be even more responsive to customer needs.

"We continue to see the opportunity to drive adoption of large data lake and cloud initiatives for enterprise organizations," stated Shimon Alon, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer at Attunity. "Our focus on being a trusted and strategic partner to these world-class customers enables a win-win collaboration for all involved. This latest win demonstrates how our innovative data integration product suite is valued over other alternatives for its state-of-the-art data capabilities while proving our leadership role in the data integration and Big Data management market."
