BURLINGTON, Massachusetts, July 12, 2018 /PRNewswire/ --

Attunity Ltd. (NASDAQ CM: ATTU), a leading provider of data integration and big data management software solutions, announced today that the Crown Commercial Service (CCS), an executive agency and trading fund of the Cabinet Office of the UK Government, has awarded Attunity with renewed Supplier Status on the G-Cloud 10 Framework, which sits within the CCS Digital Marketplace. Under the Cloud Software classification, public sector organisations can easily procure Attunity's Data Integration Platform which includes Attunity Replicate, the award-winning real-time data replication and ingestion software solution. This solution enables organisations including local government, health, education, not-for-profit and devolved administrations, to accelerate data initiatives in the cloud, such as real-time analytics, data lakes, and IoT. Attunity's full supplier listing on G-Cloud 10 can be viewed here.

To be approved as a G-Cloud supplier, companies like Attunity must complete a multi-step tender process to be listed on the framework. If the completed application conforms with required government standards, then companies are awarded an agreement, effectively paving the way for a streamlined experience for the government and municipalities to make purchases. Supplier classifications on G-Cloud 10 include Cloud Hosting, Cloud Software, and Cloud Support. The CCS' vision for the Digital Marketplace is to support its policy to centrally manage the procurement of common goods and services through an integrated commercial function, enabling them to identify efficiencies and savings opportunities for the country's public sector.

"We are pleased to have maintained our status on the G-Cloud Marketplace as it enables us to continue extending our reach into the UK public sector including central government departments and organisations," said Paul Kelly, Attunity's Executive Vice President, EMEA. "We look forward to continuing to work with these organisations to provide innovative data integration solutions that help to accelerate strategic, real-time data and analytics initiatives in the Cloud."
