Expands use of Attunity Replicate and adds Compose for Hive to automate data ingestion and transformation supporting advanced analytics

BURLINGTON, Massachusetts, October 24, 2018 /PRNewswire/ --

Attunity Ltd. (NASDAQ CM: ATTU), a leading provider of data integration and big data management software solutions, announced today that a Fortune 100 manufacturing company (the "Customer") has purchased additional licenses and services for nearly $1 million to expand its use of Attunity Replicate and add a new license for Attunity Compose for Hive. The integrated Attunity platform is designed to enable the Customer to feed its lake with additional data sources including SAP and accelerate the process of making the data available for advanced analytics initiatives.

The Customer, a global enterprise with dozens of worldwide facilities, needed to expand its use of Attunity solutions to source data from additional systems including SAP, as well as stream data changes in real-time to Apache Kafka. Further, using Attunity Compose for Hive, the Customer expects to accelerate the process of making data ready for analytic consumption in its Hortonworks data lake, thus automating a previously manual development effort. This modern foundation has empowered the Customer to scale and move over 200 billion changes per month, supporting their advanced analytics initiative.

"This expansion deal is a direct result of the Customer's continued satisfaction with the scale, strength and performance of Attunity's modern data integration platform," stated Mark Logan, President at Attunity. "We continue to see repeat business from our data lake customers as we are well positioned to help them continually improve insights and create tremendous value for their business. This success further demonstrates Attunity's ability to overcome the data integration challenges of global Fortune 100-class companies."
